

What the Boise
Watershed Means to Me

Recreation

I've spent
many hours
on the river:

---

fishing,
rafting, and
hiking the green belt.

The river provides me with the tools to regain control of my senses and allows me to feel the rhythm and flow of nature.

The river
expects nothing from
me, but to be a good
steward and
that seems like such a simple task.

Sometimes,
the simple
things turn
into the most difficult.

Balance can be achieved with planning and commitment by everyone and to all involved.

Let's work
together to keep our watershed the beautiful part
of nature it is.
